

FREAK OF FEVER IN NEW ORLEANS

The Great Majority of Yesterday's Cases Were Above Canal Street.

IT IS WARMER IN MISSISSIPPI
This Will Prevent the Lifting of Quarantines for Some Time.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW ORLEANS, October 14.—The official fever report to 6 P. M. is as follows:

New cases, 19; total, 3,305; deaths, 5; total, 425; new foot, 7; cases under treatment, 156; cases discharged, 2,721.

The remarkable feature of the Saturday report is that only seven of the new cases are below Canal Street and eight above, which is the first time since the fever started that the preponderance has been up-town. Three cases are in Algiers and one in the west end. All but one death was down-town. There are now only 156 cases under treatment, and the number is being rapidly reduced. The Emergency Hospital discharges daily more patients than it receives, the admissions now being only one or two a day.

Following the suggestions of Dr. Souther and Dr. White, many of the parishes have agreed to raise the quarantines October 15th. Ten positive answers have been received, and several tentative ones taken in the next few days. The opening up of Baton Rouge, the State capital, has resulted in a rush to that town. Hundreds of commercial travelers who have been in the city for two months will get out Sunday. There will be a general fumigation to-morrow.

Pensacola's Summary.

(By Associated Press.)
PENSACOLA, FLA., October 14.—The yellow fever summary for to-night is as follows: New cases, 0; total cases, 394; deaths to-day, 1; total deaths, 53; cases discharged, 14; cases under treatment, 24. The decreased number of cases has caused much satisfaction in the city, and State health officer Porter stated to-night that he felt encouraged and pleased over the day's report. Success is attributed to the steady fight which has been made against the mosquito.

Mississippi Warmer.

(By Associated Press.)
JACKSON, October 14.—Higher temperatures throughout the State today mean that there is no immediate prospect of the quarantines being lifted. The official summary from infected points to-day is as follows: Natchez, 3 cases, two new foot; Vicksburg, 1 new case, no deaths; total cases to date, 131; deaths, 14; under treatment, 21. Total cases in county, 45; deaths, 2; under treatment, 4. Port Gibson, 3 new cases and one death. Rosetta, 1 new case, 1 suspicious case. Gulf Port, 1 new case.

Better in Natchez.

(By Associated Press.)
NATCHEZ, MISS., October 14.—The yellow fever situation showed a slight improvement to-day, when only three new cases were reported. One of the three cases is a new focus in the eastern part of the city. Two of the patients are white. Four patients were discharged to-day. Of the large number of patients treated at the hospital, not one has been lost.

But One New Case.

(By Associated Press.)
VICKSBURG, MISS., October 14.—For the twenty-four hours ending 6 P. M. only one new case of yellow fever was reported, and that in an old focus.

Yellow Fever Mosquito.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, October 14.—The second International Sanitary Convention of the American Republics held its last session to-day, and concluded its work by signing the Spanish and English copies of the Paris convention of 1903. The rest of the time was taken up by discussion regarding the yellow fever mosquito.

TO SICK WOMEN

You need not read this if you are a man.
It is for women.

Nor need you read it, dear lady, if you are well,
---or have no sick lady friends.

But if you are sick---Yes! THEN, I hope you will not let this opportunity go by, to learn something about WHAT may make you sick and HOW you can be made well.

I wish, if you are sick, you would only BELIEVE me sufficiently, to TRY what I suggest will help you; ---Wine of Cardui.

Sufficiently to believe that, I write in all good faith, that I want to do you good, that I wish you to see for yourself what this medicine will do for you.

I am taking it for granted that you give me your attention, because you are a woman suffering from the troubles peculiar to your sex.

I have no special message for those who are sick, with diseases that are also borne by men---let others see to them!

But for women whom doctors cannot cure, for women who shrink from the doctor's questionings, or those who suffer the agonies no MAN can ever know, the periodical pains, irregularities, monthly headaches, weariness, worn-out feelings, melancholy, depression, nervousness, petulance, irritability, etc.,---for those I have words of comfort.

Every woman knows those woman's troubles, only too well.

Every woman, at one time or another, has gone through them.

Some seem to suffer in this way all their lives. But NOT those who use Cardui.

Does it mean anything to you, that, for over 70 years, Wine of Cardui has been in constant use, and in that time has benefited over a million women?

Surely, if merits counts, this must be merit. And in a medicine, what you want to learn about is merit, results, CURES.

I want you to understand that the merit of Wine of Cardui is beyond all question. It has been proven. Nobody can deny it.

It is a medicine for women, who suffer from diseases peculiar to their sex. For women. Not men.

It will relieve your pain, headache, backache, strange sickening sensations, dizziness, and every other trouble due to your special female ailments.

Taken persistently, Cardui will cure most women and make them well.

It does this because of the marvelously specific medicinal ingredients of which it is composed.

It has cured when cure seemed impossible---when doctors had failed.

It has cured when doctors said that the only hope was an operation.

What Cardui has done for other poor suffering invalids of your own sex---it may, it WILL, it MUST be able to do for you.

Try it.

"Tell it to the World," writes Mrs. M. E. Allred, of Hartford, Wash., and print my name under it, for I wish every woman to know how I was cured with Wine of Cardui. For twenty-four (24) years I had been sick every month with backache and dizzy spells; would have to go to bed, and could not get around for days. Since taking five bottles of Cardui, I am much stronger than I was, and the dizzy spells and other troubles have stopped."

A HANDSOME GIFT FOR SOLDIERS HOME

Mr. Wheelwright, of Baltimore, Sends Check for Five Hundred Dollars to Veterans.

Mr. J. H. Wheelwright, a millionaire philanthropist of Baltimore, yesterday before leaving Richmond, whether he came to attend the horse show, handed Mr. Allen Potts his check for $500 for the R. E. Lee Camp Soldiers' Home, Mr. Wheelwright's letter reads:

"My dear Mr. Potts: I am exceedingly called home on account of the illness of one of my children, and would thank you to hand the enclosed to the proper party. Hoping that I may soon have the pleasure of seeing you at Baltimore, believe me, very sincerely yours, (Signed) 'J. H. WHEELWRIGHT.'"

The enclosed handsome check was at once turned over to Colonel O. Elyer, commandant of the Soldiers' Home, who, thoroughly delighted, sent the following telegram to Mr. Wheelwright:

"Beg to acknowledge receipt of your check for $500, and in the name of the veterans of the Home to thank you heartily."

Mr. Wheelwright had seen the veterans about the horse show building, and his sympathies were touched.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of

Wm. D. Mitchell

No Typothetae in Augusta.

Editor of The Times-Dispatch:
Sir,—In Friday morning's paper you have an article headed "Many Printers are Leaving the City." In which you say Mr. A. E. Hill, organizer of the International Typographical Union, in a speech of an hour at the union headquarters, said:

"At Augusta the printers had an agreement with the Typothetae for five years, which would not have expired until January, 1907."

Been made the International Typographical Union did not intend forcing the eight-hour day, and so informed the Augusta union. But the proprietors, having the printers, and men of good character as given the eight-hour day in January next they would leave them and go to adjoining towns, where the proprietors had signed up, they, too, signed the agreement. This act on the part of the Typothetae was purely voluntary, and they were able to keep their men."

Mr. Hill called on me yesterday morning, and I called his attention to the report made of his remarks in the morning paper, and called his particular attention to the fact that there is no Typothetae organization of employing printers in Augusta, Ga., and there never has been one.

Mr. Hill admitted that that was a fact, but said that they had had contracts with two or three individual printers there, and he also said he thought he had been misquoted by your reporter. I requested him to make a correction of the statement that "the printers had an agreement with the Typothetae for five years," and told him in the event he did not that I should do so over my own signature. As I have failed to discover the correction asked in your paper this morning, I ask you to give this communication publicity in your general chapter of strike information, should you have any for to-morrow.

"There has never been any Typothetae organization at Augusta, and, of course, individuals cannot successfully stand up against an organization like the International Typographical Union, and in such a struggle it is only by the confederate action of the men in the fight, coming from the knowledge that his neighbor and associate is battling as loyally and manfully as he is himself, that success can be assured. In a battle of principle it requires both moral and physical courage. Some men are born with it and some without. Some men are gifted with the ability to look into the future with sufficient perspicacity to see what far-reaching effect their action as individuals may have upon their associates. Certain others have no ability to look beyond the immediate "serious damage and loss in business." From one class comes the heroes of mankind; from others the insignificant cowards.

In your paper of the 11th instant there was a half column article from the pen of the president of the Richmond Typographical Union, Mr. M. R. Fergusson, speaking of the action of Messrs. Fergusson and Son in signing up with the union, he uses this language: "They doubtless realized the fact that they could not afford as true Virginia gentlemen to let their old men (also Virginia gentlemen) leave their homes for other parts, while they filled their offices with the scoundrels of the country—men devoid of principle, having no abiding place, coming hither for the purpose of making a few dollars to be squandered in drink and riotous living, and when their lusts and passions have been indulged, to the disgust even of their employers, then to return to the haunts whence they came."

It is a fact that the men who have been brought to this city are hounded and driven from their boarding houses and every indignity which can be offered them made to induce them to give up the work to which they have had the independence and the manhood to set their hands. That they are competent the product of the various printing houses of this city to-day is sufficient testimony. That they are sober and reliable is proven by the fact that they remain at work in spite of the blandishments of free liquor and a promise of gain which they are offered them by the strikers whenever they put their feet in the street. We who are accustomed to judge men by their performance know that the material which we have brought here is fully equal, if not superior, to much of that contained in the ranks of the strikers, and time will prove the truth of this proposition to the rest of the community.
